PART 3—Pre game conference

The home plate Umpire conducts the pre-game conference and both umpires should be at the conference.

Base umpire stands at the front of plate / Plate umpire stands at the back of plate

Have coaches and team captains (if they have them) introduce themselves.

Home plate Umpire introduce base umpire then himself

Accept the lineup cards from the coaches. Check to see the following:

- Are the proper number of players are listed?
- Are both the first and last names are listed?
- Are there are no duplicate numbers?
- Are substitutes are listed below the starters?
- Are there additional player/players (AP) and/or DP/FLEX are being used and they are listed in the correct spot? The Designated Player (DP) is listed in the lineup where they are batting. The FLEX is listed last on the lineup.
- Are they using roster batting? If so, ALL players present must be in the batting order. Any late arriving players must be added to the end of the batting order.

If there are any problems, get them resolved now

Once the lineup card is checked, hand it back to the coach and let him review it one more time, when you get it back then the lineup becomes official.

Ask if all players and equipment are legal and in compliance with USSSA rules. You must get a verbal reply of “yes”.
